

Supporting & Donating

Reeling & Healing Midwest is a licensed charitable 501(c)(3) non-profit organization funded by individual donations, corporations, clubs, and special events. As such, we rely heavily on the generosity and kindness of friends like you. Through your support, we continue to enhance the lives of women cancer survivors by providing fly-fishing wellness retreats that promote mental, physical and emotional healing.

100% of all contributions & support are directly applied to retreat resources.

Your contribution of time, products, services or money will help Reeling & Healing Midwest maintain and expand our program offerings and volunteer base, ultimately helping us to assist more women surviving cancer.

Contributions may be in the form of monetary support, fly-fishing related items, retreat requirements or administrative supplies. All are tax-deductible as permitted by law. You may use this form or donate online by visiting our website:
